HOW TO USE THIS LIST

This list is divided into two categories—editions of the basic set (Limited (Alpha/Beta), Unlimited, Revised, and Fourth Edition) and the first extension of the basic set (Chronicles); and limited-edition expansions (Arabian Nights, Antiquities, Legends, The Dark, Fallen Empires, Ice Age, Homelands, and the promotional cards). Within each category, the card sets are presented in reverse chronological order. Because there are only slight differences between the Alpha, Beta, and Unlimited sets, these lists have been combined into a single list with separate checkboxes for each set.

Within each card set, cards appear in alphabetical order and follow the standard format used for all official lists released in The Duelist. The collector should note the following elements of the list:

Card frequency (rarity): Currently, Magic cards are printed in sheets of 121 cards. Cards from Fourth Edition and Ice Age are printed on four sheets: common, uncommon, rare, and land. Cards from Chronicles and limited expansions are printed on two sheets: common and uncommon. Cards from Alpha, Beta, Unlimited, and Revised were printed on three sheets: common, uncommon, and rare. The number after the frequency classification is the number of times that particular card appears on its sheet. For example, an Uncommon 3 appears three times on the uncommon sheet and is three times as likely to appear as an Uncommon 1.

Land frequency: In Fourth Edition and Ice Age, the exact rarity of the land is indicated. Land 8, for example, indicates a land that appears on the land sheet eight times. In Alpha, Beta, Unlimited, and Revised, however, lands were printed on both the uncommon and common sheets. These lands are denoted with an asterisk, and are labeled Common.

Version numbers: Some card names are followed by version numbers. These indicate cards which are functionally identical but which have different pieces of artwork (often by the same artist.)

Discrepancies between the cards and the lists: The lists provided here are the official, updated card lists; they should not contain errors which may appear on previous lists or actual cards.

Misprint cards: This list does not distinguish between cards which are functionally identical but which have common and recognizable versions occurring as a result of the printing and production process—the “hairy” and “not-hairy” Runeswords, cards with Magic backs on one side and Wyvern[™] backs on the other, etc. The one exception to this is in the Arabian Nights list: a production error resulted in two functionally identical but visually distinguishable versions of certain cards. Both versions are noted in the Arabian Nights list.

Preview cards: Preview cards are considered to be part of the expansion or set which they preview, and so are not listed separately in this list. However, a few preview cards were printed before the rest of the set; thus, it is possible, for example, to identify the preview versions of Fourth Edition Fireball and Blue Elemental Blast (included in the first two issues of the Shadowmage comic distributed by Acclaim Comics) from the same cards in Fourth Edition by the text at the bottom indicating the copyright is 1994 (rather than the 1995 copyright which appears on the cards in Fourth Edition).

For More Information

The Duelist publishes all the official Magic: The Gathering card lists, as well as regular updates on text and rules changes between editions. Wizards of the Coast's Customer Service will also make lists available in paper and electronic format a month after the release of the list in The Duelist. In addition, Customer Service provides a card list containing all the information contained in The Duelist, plus the casting cost and card text for every card. To request a copy of this list, contact Wizards of the Coast Customer Service at (206) 624-0933, weekdays 9am to 6pm PST; e-mail your request to custserv@wizards.com; or send your request and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Wizards of the Coast, Attn: Card List, P.O. Box 707, Renton, WA 98057.

THE BASICS OF THE BASIC SET

The Early Days: Limited and Unlimited
The original Limited release of Magic: The Gathering was a 10-million-card print run. The first part of this edition, commonly called the Alpha print run, consisted of 2.6 million cards. The later 7.3 million cards of the first edition, commonly called the Beta print run, contains seven cards which the Alpha run does not: Circle of Protection: Black, Volcanic Island, and a new illustration for each of the five land types. The Unlimited edition and the Beta edition of Magic: The Gathering contain the same cards; Unlimited cards have white borders, and Beta cards have black borders.

A Changing Card Mix: The "Rotations"
Beginning with Revised, the card mix in the basic set was substantially changed. Cards which were deemed too powerful or too confusing, or which otherwise detracted from the game, were removed, and cards from previous editions and expansions were "rotated" into the card mix. (A guide to the differences between the Unlimited and Revised card sets was published in The Duelist Supplement in May 1995; a guide to the differences between Revised and Fourth Edition was published in Duelist #5 in May 1995.)

New Cards, New Rules

With the exception of Unlimited, changes have been made to some card text and rules of every edition of the basic set. These changes are made to correct errors or to clarify game play. While this usually means that a card in one edition plays pretty much the same way as a card in a different edition, there are times when the rewording significantly changes the function of the card. (This is also true of cards from previous Magic expansions reprinted in Chronicles.) A list of the functional changes between Revised and Fourth Edition was published in Duelist #5 in May 1995; a list of the functional changes for cards reprinted in Chronicles was published in Duelist #6 in August 1995. A complete guide to the differences between Fourth Edition and all previous editions is contained in the Magic: The Gathering—Pocket Players' Guide for Fourth Edition.

HOW TO TELL MAGIC CARD SETS APART: A VISUAL GUIDE

Alpha:
These cards have black borders and are primarily distinguished by very rounded card corners. Alpha deck boxes lack a UPC bar code. Alpha (and Beta) booster packs are flat brown and are labeled Magic: The Gathering. The thirty-two-page Alpha rulebook has a picture of a Bog Wraith on the cover and contains "Worzel's Story" by Richard Garfield.

Beta:
These cards also have black borders and are primarily distinguished by their less rounded card corners. (All cards printed since Beta have had these same corners.) Individual Beta deck boxes have a UPC bar code on the bottom (missing from the Alpha deck box). Alpha and Beta booster packs are identical. The forty-page Beta rulebook also has a Bog Wraith on the cover, but "Worzel's Story" was dropped in favor of a summary of play, an FAQ, and an index.

Collectors' Edition and International Collectors' Edition:
These cards have black borders and are primarily distinguished by their square-cut corners and the gold border on the card back, which is labeled Collectors' Edition or International Edition. Each complete set is packaged in a single box labeled Collectors' Edition or International Collectors' Edition.

Unlimited:
These cards have white borders and can be distinguished from other white-bordered editions by the presence of an illustrated "beveled" edge and a copyright on the bottom of the card attributing the card art to the artist. The deck boxes and booster packs have the words Unlimited Edition on them. The Unlimited rulebook is identical to the Beta rulebook.

Revised:
These cards have white borders and can be distinguished from other white-bordered editions by the absence of the illustrated "beveled" edge on the card. Also, a change in the films in this printing caused many Revised cards to look lighter or faded compared to Unlimited and Fourth Edition cards. In addition, this set is the first to incorporate the > (tap symbol). The deck boxes and booster packs are labeled Revised Edition. The Revised rulebook has a Shivan Dragon on the cover.

Fourth Edition:
These cards have white borders and can be distinguished from other white-bordered editions by the presence of both the illustrated "beveled" edge on the card and a Wizards of the Coast copyright at the bottom of the card. Also, this set is the first to incorporate the > (tap symbol). The deck boxes and booster packs are labeled Fourth Edition. Fourth Edition starter decks display the five mana symbols, and the foil boosters feature one of five pieces of art from the set. The rulebook is the first to have a color cover.

Limited-edition expansions and promotional cards:
These cards are black-bordered and can be identified as belonging to a particular expansion by the expansion symbol which appears below the lower right corner of the art. The expansion symbols for the existing limited-edition expansions are:

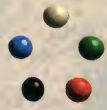

- | | |
|-------------------|------------------------------------|
| Arabian Nights: ♪ | Ice Age: * |
| Antiquities: ♣ | Homelands: Ⓢ |
| Legends: ♠ | HarperCollins promotional cards: — |
| The Dark: ☾ | DragonCon card: Ⓢ |
| Fallen Empires: ♣ | |

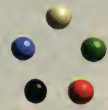

Unlimited-edition expansions:
Chronicles cards are white-bordered and can be distinguished from other white-bordered cards by the expansion symbol indicating the original expansion which the card appeared in; this appears below the lower right corner of the art.

MAGIC: THE GATHERING—

FOURTH EDITION

The projected average distribution for Fourth Edition starters is three cards from the rare sheet, nine cards from the uncommon sheet, twenty-six cards from the common sheet, and twenty-two cards from the land sheet; the average distribution for Fourth Edition boosters is one rare, three uncommon, and eleven common.

MAGIC: THE GATHERING—

Arabian Nights

The projected average distribution for Arabian Nights boosters is two cards from the uncommon sheet and six cards from the common sheet. On cards with a version (a) and (b), the colorless mana symbols in the casting cost on version (b) appear significantly darker, and the numbers contained in the circles are significantly smaller, than those on version (a). There is no functional difference between the versions.

A HISTORY OF MAGIC: THE GATHERING RELEASES

THE MAGIC SETTING

Magic: The Gathering® takes place in the multiverse of Dominia, a world which contains as many subworlds as grains of sand on a beach. One particular world, Dominaria, is a focal point for planeswalkers because its well-worn passages provide stability and its intense magical energy and diversity of race provide fodder for their wars. In the present day of Dominaria, the Ice Age is long in the past and the people and places in Magic: The Gathering—Fourth Edition, along with those in Arabian Nights, are present in Dominaria.

THE BASIC SET

Magic: The Gathering—Limited Edition

“Alpha”: 295 cards, released in August 1993; now out of print (2.6 million cards printed)

“Beta”: 302 cards, released in October 1993; now out of print (7.3 million cards printed)

Magic: The Gathering—Unlimited Edition

302 cards, released in December 1993; now out of print (35 million cards printed)

Magic: The Gathering Collectors' Editions

Magic: The Gathering—Collectors' Edition: 363-card boxed set, released in December 1993; now out of print (10 thousand sets printed)

Magic: The Gathering—International Collectors' Edition: 363-card boxed set, released in December 1993; now out of print (5 thousand sets printed)

Magic: The Gathering—Revised Edition

306 cards, released in April 1994; now out of print

Magic: The Gathering—Fourth Edition

378 cards, released in April 1995; still in print (still available)

Chronicles

125 cards, released in September 1995; still in print (still available)

The first unlimited-edition Magic expansion, Chronicles is considered an extension of the basic set. This white-bordered set reprinted cards from four limited-edition expansions: fourteen cards from Arabian Nights, twenty-one from Antiquities, seventy-one from Legends, and nineteen from The Dark.

THE LIMITED-EDITION EXPANSIONS

Arabian Nights

78-card set, released December 1993; now out of print (5 million cards printed)

The first expansion set for Magic: The Gathering®, this expansion brings to life the classic tales told in The Arabian Nights. These characters are part of the rich intersection of worlds that is Dominia.

Antiquities

100-card set, released March 1994; now out of print (15 million cards printed)

Antiquities is the first set to delve into Dominaria's complex history.

About four thousand years ago, the Brothers' War between the artificer twins Urza and Mishra occurred on the continent of Terisiare. While this terrible conflict resulted in great advances in the creation and usage of magical artifacts, the massive magical devastation produced dramatic changes in weather patterns. The tale of this conflict is seen in Antiquities, an expansion which focuses on artifacts.

Legends

310-card set, released June 1994; now out of print (35 million cards printed)

This set collects many of the mythical places and personalities in the Magic multiverse. It focuses on the Legends, the great figures of Dominia's history whose stories unfold in other expansions.

The Dark

119-card set, released August 1994; now out of print (62 million cards printed)

This expansion resumes the exploration of Dominaria's dark past. Decades after the Brothers' War, that magical disaster continued to have a massive effect on Dominaria and a terrible time known as The Dark began. Knowledge of this period is sketchy at best, but it is remembered as a time of treachery and intrigue when the rich and powerful grappled to seize control of as much magic as possible at the cost of the people they ruled. This expansion focuses on the powerful but perilous magic that prevailed during this period of Dominaria's history.

Fallen Empires

187-card set, released November 1994; now out of print (still available)

Fallen Empires is set in roughly the same period as The Dark, a few decades after the end of the conflict depicted in Antiquities. The changes in weather caused by that war made resources scarce on the southern continent of Sarpadia, eventually bringing the empires of Sarpadia to war. Fallen Empires explores these crumbling civilizations and their struggle, which spelled disaster for almost everyone.

Ice Age

383-card set, released June 1995; still in print (still available)

The struggle of the once-proud empires of Sarpadia became merely a memory as an Ice Age descended upon Dominaria. Glaciers began creeping outward from the poles, the climate got colder worldwide, and many civilizations fell. On the continent of Terisiare, the lone civilized land of Kjeldor was menaced by the forces of a necromancer, Lim-Dûl. But late in the fighting, the forest goddess Freyalise magically reversed the course of the Ice Age and the glaciers began to recede.

Homelands

140-card set, released in October 1995; now out of print (still available)

The Homelands was a peaceful place while Serra and Feroz, powerful planeswalkers, kept a spell on it, protecting it from hostile planeswalkers. But twenty generations after Serra and Feroz had died, the spell began to fade away, leaving the land open to corruption. Now the Homelands is ensued in a constant struggle of good versus evil with Eron the Relentless, king of the goblins; Baron Sengir, the vampire lord; Reveka, the head of the Wizards' School, and Autumn Willow, avatar of the Great Wood, as its key players.
